Present indications are that early Tuesday will see the lowest temperature of the cold snap, according to Carson, and rising temperature later Tuesday also is expected. Today the high pressure area is central over the middle west, according to advices received by Carson.

HOUSTON GRAIN RATES FAVORED

I. C. C. Examiner Reports Adversity to Gulf Ports
A tentative decision from an examiner of Interstate Commerce commission received here today by H. Y. Taylor, traffic head of the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping, which recommends a straight mileage scale, ordered for all Texas and Oklahoma grain, whether coastwise, domestic or export, acts adversely on Port Arthur and every Gulf port in Texas with the exception of Houston.
This was the statement of Taylor after reading the examiner's recommendation. "This decision, if upheld by the commission, will destroy the present equalization rates of Texas coast cities. Because of Houston's geographical location it will give that city rates of from one to five cents lower than any other ports. This is going to be vigorously protested. There isn't a strictly mileage scale rate applying in the United States on any commodity as important as grain, and the examiner's recommendation can not be allowed to stand. It will hurt not only Gulf port cities but all points, to and from between Oklahoma and Texas producing and consuming points," Taylor commented.

$3,000 GRANTED FOR HOSPITAL

County Makes Appropriation From Interest Fund
County commissioners this morning appropriated $3,000 to be used in purchasing equipment for the new county tuberculosis hospital.
Appropriation was made from the depository interest fund.
While the commissioners discussed ways and means for providing funds for operation of the hospital, now completed, no definite decision as to how the money would be raised was made, since the usual means of a tax levy or bond issue would entail too long a time to permit immediate opening of the hospital.
Yearly Cost of $10,000
Dr. J. W. Garth, chairman of the tuberculosis board, estimated the yearly operating cost at $10,000. D. E. Breed, secretary of the Texas Public Health association, estimated it at $17,000, or equivalent to $2.20 per day per patient.
As matters stand now, the county has a $50,000 hospital, with provision made for its equipment, but nothing on which to start caring for several score of tuberculosis patients, to whom its doors will remain closed until the commissioners find a solution to the problem.
When the bond issue was voted no provision was made for the hospital's operating or funds provided for its equipment cost. The last taxation period passed also without such provisions being made, and more than a year must elapse before any revenues from this source can be obtained.

NASHVILLE RESIDENTS SAY GRAVEL DUSTY

Operations of the city street working forces have been transferred from Nashville avenue to West Port Arthur, where six blocks near Lincoln school are now being gravelled. Residents on Nashville avenue objected to the gravel, saying they did not want the dust nuisance, it was said. Two blocks on Tenth street to Grandis avenue, three blocks on Grandis avenue from Tenth to Seventh streets and one block on Eleventh street are being gravelled.

ISONZO LEAKS DELAY PUMPS

Inaccessible Openings Handicap Engineers
MORE PUMPS ADDED
Battery of Four Emptying Wrecks Hold
At the rate of nearly 10,000 gallons per hour, four centrifugal pumps were pushing water out of the sunken Italian motorship Isonzo in the canal above the locks, floating the vessel slowly, S. W. Clarke, U. S. government engineer in the Sabine district, said shortly after noon today.
Brought Up Two Feet
Because of leakage through openings divers have been unable to close right away, the work of pumping out the Isonzo is progressing slowly, but the vessel is being floated, Clarke said. Since the two pumps started on the forecastle Saturday afternoon, two others have been added to the battery, and the sunken ship brought up about two feet.
Definite time for re-opening the ship channel to traffic, blocked two weeks ago Tuesday when the Isonzo caught fire in the engine rooms and exploded, cannot yet be forecast, Clarke said this afternoon. An official announcement may possibly be made later today as the pumping out work progresses, according to the government engineer.
May Move Ship Tuesday
Major J. L. Schley, of Galveston, U. S. engineer in charge of the entire Galveston district, was still at the scene of the salvaging operations today.
Orders for moving the 17 ships bottled up in Beaumont, at Sabine and off Sabine bar had not been given today, it was learned in shipping circles here. There is a bare possibility that the Isonzo will be re-floated and towed out of the canal, ending the two weeks of blockade, in time for the vessels to start in and out of the Neches and Sabine river ports Tuesday, according to marine officials here.

Two in Auto Wreck Leave Gates Hospital

Leroy Cordona and Miss Beatrice Redgood, both of Beaumont, who were painfully and severely injured when their automobile skidded into the ditch on the Port Arthur-Beaumont highway shortly before 10 o'clock Sunday night, were able to leave Mary Gates hospital after receiving medical attention, authorities at the institution reported today.

'HONOR' PRISON FARM OPENED

Neff Welcomes 122 Convicts To 'Free' Duty
SUGARLAND, Sept. 29.—Texas' first prison farm became a reality today.
Filling past Governor Pat Neff and his party, 122 convicts, pick of all the state's prison farms, received a hearty handclasp from the chief executive and became "honor men."
With their transformation, guards, locks, bloodhounds and all other trappings and terrors of prison life became things of the past. Honor is the only thing which took their place.
Following the convicts' reception by the men presented him a gold fountain pen and suggested "that he use it occasionally."
Governor Neff laughed.
After the opening services the men changed from the somber gray prison garb to the new blue uniforms of the honor system and a barbecue dinner was served at which Governor Neff made a brief speech.

COMMISSIONER WADE WINS FISH LAURELS

Commissioner Wade made another raid on the fish over the week-end. A party of 19, headed by the angling commissioner, week-ended at Bann's bluff, 12 miles above Beaumont on the Neches river and caught all the fish they could eat besides bring back enough for all their friends.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Immediate tests of all herds in southeast Texas for isolation and to prevent further spread of the hoof and mouth epidemic central in Harris and other counties in the Houston area has been ordered by federal officials.
Among the counties in which these tests have been ordered are Jefferson, Orange, Hardin, Liberty, Chambers, Jasper and Newton. State and local authorities in several of these counties already have started action.

'Buy a Fair Season Ticket' Team Slogan In Y. M. B. L. Fair Drive

'HELP THE FAIR'
DR. A. S. POLLOCK — Of course, everybody ought to buy tickets for the fair. That would put the fair over in good shape, and make it the best in southeast Texas.
SAM SCHMINK, office supplies—We should all be loyal to the fair and do our bit by buying tickets.
W. T. HOOKER, druggist—It seems to me that the sale of 4,000 tickets by the Y. M. B. L. should be easy. If it can be put over, the fair should be a great success. It is one of the finest things Port Arthur has ever undertaken.
A. A. GUNTER, assistant collector of customs for Sabine district—A splendid opportunity for Port Arthurians to take advantage of the First Annual Port Arthur fair at reduced prices is afforded by bulk sales of season tickets in advance instead of waiting to purchase individual admissions. The fair is a good thing.
VERNON J. WISTNER, attorney—I know of nothing more beneficial to Port Arthur than the annual fair, and if the Y. M. B. L. starts to sell 4,000 tickets, they'll sell them.
O. M. BRILEY, plumber—We've got to sell them in order to insure the success of the fair, and I expect to take a bunch to sell. When the Y. M. B. L. starts a job it's as good as finished.
FRANK STONEBURNER, manager Electric Supply company—This first Annual Port Arthur Fair ought to go over big, with everybody taking a live interest in it, and the Y. M. B. L. ought to sell 4,000 season tickets. I expect to do my part of the work of disposing of the tickets.
HARRY J. MAY, manager of May's store—Advance sale of season tickets by the Y. M. B. L. will be one of the biggest means of getting people out to the first Annual Port Arthur Fair, because of the advertising given the fair through the ticket selling efforts, and then the ticket sales will get folks to talking up the fair so everybody will be ready for the opening.
A. C. REICHEL, president of Y. M. B. L.—This is the first fair here, and every individual should take a great interest. It will be the cheapest entertainment Port Arthur people have ever had. Not only that, but it will be educational. Buy a ticket—everybody.
MAYOR J. P. LOGAN—I think it's a fine thing. It's the first fair, and we certainly want to put it over in great style.

CONFIDENT NOTE IN DEMO TALKS

Enthusiasm Sweeping Davis Forces Now
WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—A new air of confidence in the chances of electing John W. Davis to the presidency was apparent today at democratic headquarters. It came as a direct result of the standard bearer's visit here on Saturday.
Not since the pre-convention days when democratic leaders talked of 1924 as a "democratic year," have democratic speakers spoken with such assurance of their party's success in November.
Davis, by his own enthusiasm, has apparently wiped out the last trace of defeatist feeling that grew out of the New York convention and converted the party organization here into a fighting machine.
The democrats say that reports show a distinct trend in Davis' direction. They also admit that Senator La Follette is gaining in many sections. They say, however, that the independent candidate is cutting more deeply into republican than democratic ranks. It was learned that funds are coming in more slowly than in 1920 when the entire democratic fund was approximately one million dollars.

NEW CENSORS

Two Additions Named On City Board
Two new members were named today when the city commission appointed a censor board to serve for the ensuing two years, term of the old board having expired. Dr. S. D. Wall and A. B. Martin were appointed to succeed Percy Pace and T. J. Baker, while Rev. C. W. Culp, Rev. T. Alvis Davis and Henry Maitre were reappointed.

INTERURBAN FLAG STATION FOR TENTH

The Tenth street interurban flag station requested by the city is now being installed, according to a letter received today from A. F. Townsend of Beaumont, manager of the Eastern Texas Electric company. The station was requested by the city as a convenience to Model addition residents.

DICKSON TAKES APPEAL IN CASE

Court Holds Women Have Right to Office
CONSTITUTIONAL
Judge Calhoun Finds No Enabling Act Resrued
By Austin Press
AUSTIN, Sept. 29.—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson of Temple, democratic nominee for governor, is eligible to hold the office of governor of Texas, District Judge George Calhoun declared in a decision handed down here today.
All Women Eligible
Calhoun placed the stamp of approval upon the right of Mrs. Ferguson and other women to hold office under the state statutes and refused the petition for a temporary injunction asked by Charles Dickson of San Antonio to keep the name of the woman candidate off the general election ballot.
Calhoun held that the state constitution does not prohibit the holding of office by women and overruled contention that he was without jurisdiction in the case.
Notice of appeal was given by Dickson.
Quotes 19th Amendment
The 19th amendment to the federal constitution granting right of suffrage to women, according to Calhoun's opinion, also conferred upon the women of this country, the right to hold office, and enabling acts were not required to confer such right. He referred to the other federal amendments, particularly the 15th, which gave full citizenship and the right to vote to the negro race.
"During reconstruction days in the south, who raised the question that the negro had not right to vote and hold office?" asked Calhoun.
Framers Did Not Bar Women
When the 15th amendment was adopted and went into effect, negroes not only voted but they were elected to office. Nobody said anything about the requirement of an enabling act to allow officeholding by negroes. Now that women are holding office, why do they come here and question her eligibility, after the amendment to the federal constitution has been granted conferring upon her the electoral franchise?
It was the court's opinion that the framers of the constitution intended that women should hold office when the time came. He referred to the rejection by the framers of an amendment that only male persons should be elected to office.
Define Legislature's Power
By that act, Calhoun said, the constitution framers showed clearly that women were not in the days to come to be disbarred from office.
In overruling the question raised as to the court's jurisdiction to pass upon the Dickson injunction case, Judge Calhoun said that the legislature had the power to pass upon the question of eligibility of persons elected governor and lieutenant governor, but that was a matter to be determined after the election. There is no prohibition in law that prohibits the test of the right of a candidate to go on the ballot to be voted on in the election.
Mrs. Ferguson Makes Clean Sweep
Mrs. Ferguson has not yet been elected governor and the court has the right to hear an injunction suit to determine her right to go on the ticket.
Judge Calhoun made a clean sweep of all contentions against the eligibility of the woman nominee in the four day hearing last week. Outstanding was the argument that the phrasing of the state constitution prohibited a woman acting as governor. Calhoun held that the constitution did not specify that the governor should be a man or should not be a woman.
The Calhoun decision confirmed the office holding rights of more than two hundred women now holding elective and appointive offices in the state.

RENEW PROBE OF RED CROSS FUND

No Discrepancies Found in Dutton's Chapter
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 29.—Federal authorities today continued a probe of records of Dell D. Dutton, director of the Kansas City chapter of the American Red Cross who shot and killed himself.
Dutton's chapter accounts showed no discrepancies, authorities said, but income tax returns of contributors to the chapter and subsequent contributors' reports made by Dutton differ, they said.
Falsified Reports?
Either the contributors have falsified their income tax returns or Dutton has altered his contributors' reports, officials declared.
A difference of $25,000 has been discovered, authorities said.
Dutton committed suicide when the investigation was at its height. He was in poor health.

NEW YEAR

Jewish Celebration Conducted Here Sunday, Today
Jewish New Year is being observed here, commencing Sunday evening at sundown and to continue through the day, services being held at the hall, 444 Procter, with Rabbi Dr. G. Frigenbaum of the Hebrew Institute at San Antonio in charge of the services.
The initial New Year gathering was Sunday evening at 6:30. This morning at 9:30 Rabbi Frigenbaum again addressed the congregation and a final service is scheduled for 6:30 this evening.
Programs are being featured by special music and poetic presentation with a big attendance of Jews from here and visiting.
All Jewish stores are closed for the day.

HAVANA TO EXCHANGE POLICE INFORMATION

The identification bureau of the Port Arthur police department has established relations with the bureau of the Havana, Cuba, department, Joe Wyndelt, superintendent of the local bureau today receiving papers instituting the service from Inspector Juan Castelland, head of Havana police.
Finger prints, photos and descriptions will be interchanged with all cities on the mailing lists of the United States bureau, Wyndelt says.

CITY RECEIVES BALANCE FROM FORMER EMPLOYEE

Cashier's check for $320.65 was received today by the city from Guy Keller, formerly in charge of the city abattoir and who left Port Arthur more than two months ago city officials announced.
After Keller left Port Arthur H. L. Landry, who had been assisting Keller, was formally appointed to take charge of the abattoir. Keller had been in the service of this city for about six months.
About a week ago Major Logan said it was discovered that the city still had funds coming from Keller. Keller was found in Fort Worth, and promptly sent a check.
An audit of abattoir funds will be made, the mayor said, and if Keller sent too much money a refund will be made to him.

NEGRO FINED $25 WHEN ADMITS 45 CENT THEFT

Admission that he stole a barrette worth 15 cents and two pair of women's hose valued at 30 cents the pair at Woolworth's store here Saturday night, was made by a negro in police court before Judge Dycus this morning.
The 45 cents worth of merchandise, however, came much higher than that. Judge Dycus assessing a fine of $25 and a day in jail.

MANY JOIN AT CHURCH SERVICE

More Than 50 Additions in Revival Series

Over 50 additions to the First Baptist church by letter and profession of faith during the first week of the three weeks revival services. Rev. I. E. Lee, of Herrin, Ill., is conducting the service. Rev. C. W. Culp, pastor of the church, today.

At the meeting of the Men's Bible class of the church Sunday morning, Rev. Lee, who has been visiting in the morning and evening preaching services a total of about 20 men and women were added by letter and faith, Rev. Culp said.

Prayer meetings preceding the evening preaching service will be held tonight at 7:10 o'clock at the First Baptist church, Fifth street and Shreveport avenue, the Sunday school department and organized classes conducting the prayer services.

Because of the cold weather, the services will be held in the main auditorium of the church, on the second floor, instead of on the lawn, Rev. Culp said today. Congregations assembling Sunday for the services conducted by Dr. Lee, including the services Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock on "The Sanctity of the Home," taxes the capacity of the auditorium, and special provisions have been made for handling the throngs expected to attend the services yet to be held each evening until the close of the revival, Rev. Culp said.

In union should the disease appear. "We are forewarned," our best efforts will be to detect the malady. After its arrival there is but one course left—to kill the whole herd, infected," he said.

Livestock exhibits will not be held at the Southeast Texas fair at Beaumont this year, it was indicated from word there this morning.

Not to Handicap Fair

Port Arthur's fair, which comes before the Beaumont exposition, will not be greatly affected if the livestock ban is placed because of the epidemic, officials said today.

Though a poultry and livestock building is being erected, officials state they had not planned for extensive livestock exhibits this year.

Traps Set For Buzzards In Houston Area

HOUSTON, Sept. 29.—With all agencies, federal, state, county and local, engaged together this morning with Governor Pat Neff of Texas personally directing all activities, the fight against the hoof and mouth disease was launched in all Southeast Texas this morning.

Further spread of the disease was expected by officials in charge following a report from Perry McFadden, owner of the third herd of 700 cattle quarantined, that fully 20 head of the main herd were unaccounted for and probably were roaming the open ranges miles from the center of the infection.

Set Buzzard Traps

In an effort to stem the spread of the disease through stray cattle, dead from the ravages of the disease, government buzzard trappers were at work this morning setting traps for miles on the open ranges.

First steps on the program of eradication of the disease, declared by Governor Neff to have brought Texas face to face with the greatest crisis in the history of the state, will be the slaughter and burial of nearly two thousand head of condemned cattle, the property of Dr. Williams States Jacobs, Thomas C. Dunn, Jr., and Perry McFadden, prominent ranchmen. The condemned cattle are all on the restricted area of 6,500 acres, around which a cordon of guards have been placed since the disease was first discovered.

Guards at Orange

Two states, Louisiana and Oklahoma, already have thrown embargo barriers against the epidemic.

Louisiana, the first state to place a ban against the shipment of Texas livestock into that state, placed guards on the Sabine river from Orange, Texas, to Shreveport, La. Sunday, according to E. P. Flowers, executive officer of the livestock sanitary board of Louisiana, here to observe the epidemic.

All ferry service across the river has been halted and bridges are being closely guarded. All cars coming into Louisiana must bear the government stamp of inspection, Flowers declared.

Drastring Embargoes

The embargoes will be in effect, both state and government officials declared, until the epidemic has been thoroughly wiped out in Texas.

All available emergency funds of the state were pledged to the campaign to stamp out the disease by Governor Neff, who arrived in Houston late Sunday at the head of a force of Texas rangers. Should these funds prove insufficient, a special session of the legislature will be called, it was intimated by the state's chief executive.

From sources closely in touch with the executive offices, it was said that in the event the state legislature is called into session, appropriation of $2,000,000 probably would be asked to combat the disease.

Situation Grave—Neff

A fund of approximately $100,000 is now available with the sale of state bonds. Such a fund likely will be insufficient, it is said.

Speaking before a conference of all forces assembled here last night Governor Neff declared the situation was grave and must be met promptly. He tendered the services of every state department to those in charge of the fight against the epidemic.

With the slaughter of condemned cattle under way today and the restricted area under rigid guard, federal and state inspectors will turn their attention to counties adjoining Harris, Galveston, parts of Brazoria and Fort Bend counties, already under quarantine. Tests will be made of all herds in Southeast Texas immediately, authorities declared.

Regulations for Canned Fruit Fair Exhibits Are Completed

Exhibits Are Urged From All Localities of Sabine District by Mrs. W. H. McCoy, Chairman

Rules and regulations pertaining to the preserves and canned fruits division of Port Arthur's First Annual Fair have been worked out by the committee, which is headed by Mrs. W. H. McCoy.

In addition to exhibits from Port Arthurians, Mrs. McCoy is expecting a large number of exhibits from the surrounding communities, including Nederland, Port Neches, Sabine, Sabine Pass, and other smaller towns in this territory.

Persons exhibiting candies in this department are requested by the committee to have the candy prepared for exhibition when presented to the committee. Prizes will be offered for any variety of taffy, date loaf, fudge and divinity.

In the line of preserves first and second prizes will be offered for figs, strawberry, blackberry, dewberry, plum, peach, pear, grape, tomato, citron, kumquat and watermelon preserves.

Canned fruits include strawberries, blackberries, plums, peaches, pears, grapes, dewberries, mayhaws and figs; and jellies are blackberry, dewberry, strawberry, mayhaw, grape, plum, peach and apple.

In the pickles class are included green tomatoes, cucumbers, onions, chow chow, mixed, peach, pear, pepper and beet; and included with the canned vegetables are beans, kraut, corn, potatoes, okra, peas and tomatoes.

For the best and largest display of preserved and canned goods a first prize of $1.50 will be offered and a ribbon will be given as the second prize.

The committee assisting Mrs. McCoy in charge of the preserves and canned fruits division is comprised of Mrs. George E. Carter, Mrs. H. L. Woodall, Mrs. C. L. McIver and Mrs. T. M. Andrews.

OFFER REWARD FOR CAR DRIVER

Cars Collide. One Fails To Stop After Crash

BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 29.—Charges will probably be filed against the driver of an automobile as the result of an accident occurring early Sunday morning on the Beaumont-Port Arthur road near the race track. Ben Bibb, Port Neches man, reported to the local police department that his truck which he was driving at the time collided with a touring car that failed to stop after the accident. A reward of $50 was offered for the name of the man driving the car and the establishment of his identity. The accident occurred about 3:30 a. m. Sunday.

BEAUMONT COURT BUSINESS SLUMPS

BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 29.—Business in the Beaumont city corporation court dropped considerably all the past week, according to a report filed today with the city manager. Fines for the week only amounted to $370.40 against $670 for the week before. There were only 29 arrests during the time and 20 complaints received for investigation.

NOLICENSE CHARGE DROPPED

BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 29.—Three negroes charged with operating service cars in Beaumont were dismissed here Monday morning following arrests made Sunday night. The men were charged with operating service cars without a license and with soliciting passengers at a local depot. The charges were dropped this morning.

ALLEGED FORGERY CASE IS CALLED

BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 29.—Willie Jones, young Port Arthur negro, went to trial in 58th district court this morning on a charge of forgery. The negro had a pay check from the Gulf refinery for $4.90 and attempted to raise it to $74.90. Judge Rose asked for a suspended sentence for the boy who pled guilty to the charge. Judge O'Brien will take up other criminal cases set for the week following disposition of this case.

OVER DOZEN SPEEDERS FINED

BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 29.—More than a dozen speeders appeared in Judge H. H. Reeves' court this morning that were arrested over Sunday. Deputies declare that the number of speeders depends on the weather. The first cold snap always causes motorists to "step on the gas," and as a result the justice courts are crowded with speeders, Judge Reeves said today.

NO IMPROVEMENT FOR NEW ROAD

BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 29.—Although deeds for the right-of-way of a new road extending from the end of College street here to the new paved Amelia road have been filed with the county clerk, no immediate improvement will be made on the road, according to County Judge B. B. Johnson. Deeds for the new road were filed the past week.

TWO COURTS IN VACATION

BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 29.—Two courts are in vacation here this week. Judge J. D. Campbell of the 60th district court will have a week of vacation before he will take up his non-jury civil docket. He will then devote a month to hearing jury

V. OF A. TO START DRIVE FOR $5,000

Funds to Be Used in Relief Work in Port Arthur

A drive for a budget of $5,000, estimated at the amount needed for carrying on their relief work in Port Arthur for the ensuing year, will be launched Wednesday by Volunteers of America here, Mrs. J. R. Slade, captain in the organization, said today.

Plans to conclude the financial campaign by October 15 are made, Mrs. Slade said. For each residence giving as much as one dollar, a placard will be given to be posted in the window to prevent further solicitation, and it is hoped that enough money will be raised through the drive to practically do away with tumbourine solicitations for funds, the captain said.

"Endorsement of the Volunteers of America and their work was given by the Port Arthur Ministerial association at its meeting today, and we were pledged the co-operation of all the churches of the city," Mrs. Slade said.

Under an agreement reached with Red Cross officials for dividing up the relief work in Port Arthur, the Volunteers of America handle only transient cases, leaving the family work and health clinic examinations to the Red Cross, Mrs. Slade pointed out.

$75,000 PAVING BOND ISSUE FOR ENNIS

ENNIS, Sept. 29.—Ennis residents will ballot October 21 upon a $75,000 paving bond issue, according to a decision by the city commission.

Under existing contracts with paving material companies, the amount would enable Ennis to have some of the finest streets for its size in the state.

With the Candidates

The three candidates for the presidency were idle today while their subordinates carried on their effort to swing voters to their respective parties in the coming election.

John W. Davis conferred with his campaign managers here and went over plans for his next speaking trip.

MURDERS WIFE. THEN KILLS SELF

Galveston Man Leaves Note Claiming Accident

GALVESTON, Texas, Sept. 29.—Leaving a note which he confessed to the killing of his wife but disclosed it was accidental, W. W. Robinson, about 45, Dallas, committed suicide here early Sunday morning by shooting himself through the head.

His wife was found dead in a bedroom in South Dallas, a bullet wound in the left eye, Saturday morning. The note, written on the back of a bank check, reads:

"I killed my wife. God being my helper, it was an accident, but under the conditions and being scared after the gun went off, I loved her with all my heart."

2 Prisoners Give Police Guard 'Air'

The city street working forces were out in half this morning—that is, the involuntary forces.

When Keeper McFadden had his back turned this morning, two prisoners out of a gang of four taking the bumps out of Eighth street gave McFadden the "air."

Eleven prisoners have made their escape from street working gangs in the last few months, according to police records.

County court-at-law is also in vacation this week. Judge C. N. Ellis will take up his criminal docket again next Monday morning.

60TH GRAND JURORS CALLED

BEAUMONT, Texas, Sept. 29.—Dr. George C. Butte, republican candidate for governor of Texas, will speak here at Neches park on October 14. A number of prominent republicans have been named on the reception committee.

Runaway Romance Comes To Light Anew With Babe's Birth

Millicent Rogers Brings Child To Father's Home, Leaving Count Salm Behind To Think It Over

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—A reminder of the runaway romance of Millicent Rogers and Count Ludwig Salm von Hoogstraeten waited lustily at Miss Lippincott's private hospital here today, where "mother and son are doing well."

Presumably father is too, but he was left behind in Europe when Father Rogers went over after his remorseful daughter and brought her home. The count has been advised of his fatherhood, but has not been invited to the christening and friends of the family say there will be no reconciliation.

It's a Boy, 8 Pounds

"It's a boy, eight pounds and it looks like its father," Millicent said. Millicent, $1,000,000 heiress, married Count Salm at the municipal building in New York City January 9 of this year. They went to Europe after the bride's father, Colonel H. H. Rogers, declined to accept Ludwig and for a time danced in a cabaret while the count wrote "How I Won and Won the $1,000,000 Heiress" for a feature syndicate. Then Colonel Rogers went over and brought back his daughter. The baby came September 27.

NEGRESS USES RAZOR TO SETTLE DISPUTE

WAXAHACHIE, Sept. 29.—"You'll die and go to hell if you open that trunk" was the challenge Lucille Owen, negress, gave Limps Love, negro, when he attempted to divide the funds they had made picking cotton.

Limps was somewhat of a sport. Besides he thought Lucille was kidding him.

She wasn't. Physicians said it. Lu. He had slashed an inch lower it would have been curtains for Limps. He will recover. Lucille could not be located following the rumpus.

Holy City's Defenders Fail to Halt Wahabis

LONDON, Sept. 29.—A Central news dispatch from Mecca, says that officials there have fled to Jeddah carrying the government archives. A counter offensive by the Holy City's defenders failed to check the Wahabis who are threatening to capture Mecca.

JACKIE COOGAN IS RECEIVED BY POPE

ROME, Sept. 29.—Pope Pius today received Jackie Coogan in audience at the Vatican.

The American boy movie star is one of the youngest communicants ever received by the head of the church, an honor usually reserved for only persons of the highest rank.

Jackie has been in Europe several days, visiting important cities in connection with a shipment of supplies for needy children of the Near East being made by the East Relief association.

MIS-PARKS FLIVVER 18 TIMES—ARRESTED

DALLAS, Sept. 29.—One Dallas motorist, according to officers, is suffering from amnesia in a violent form.

Eighteen red cards have been hung on his mis-parked flivver within the last few months. Each time he has neglected to appear in court. Judge P. D. Crawford telephoned him after the 18th violation, and the violator promised to come to court and "clean the slate."

Clears Complexion

"Oh! how clear and beautiful your complexion is today, my dear!"

THERE IS a certain joy—a certain pride—in knowing you are admired, whether it be from father, brother, husband or sweetheart! And back of that joy is the satisfaction of knowing all is well.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps, wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness which is not theirs. But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that craved for attractiveness—that clear skin—that beauty. A clear skin—is the barometer of one's condition. A healthy skin radiates beauty. Pure, clear blood means a clear skin.

S.S.S. is waiting to help you. It will rid your blood of its impurities and give you that clear complexion. Since 1826 S.S.S. has been ridding people of blood impurities, from pimples, from blackheads, boils, eczema and from rheumatism, too. Because S.S.S. is made from fresh herbs and barks, it may be taken with perfect safety. Try it yourself. You will not only look better, but you will feel better, too.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

FIRE PREVENTION DRIVE IS SLATED

Addresses to Be Made Before Audiences

Fire prevention lessons will be driven home by talks in all schools, theatres and before civic clubs, Fire Marshall J. B. Coe says. Fire prevention week, October 5 to 11, will be observed with a program at the high school.

Addresses will be made at the high school by outside speakers on the first three days of the week, and teachers in the other schools will make fire prevention talks. High school students will make talks in the theatres. Letters have been mailed out to various civic organizations, asking co-operation.

Fires are commonly started by any one of nine different causes, Coe says, and five of these are strictly preventable, while four others are partially preventable. Matches and smoking, stoves, furnaces, boilers and their pipes, defective chimneys and flues, sparks on roofs, petroleum products as fire causes are all entirely preventable. Electricity, spontaneous combustion, lightning and sparks from machinery are at least partially preventable, Coe says.

Local Woman Wins First Prize in Test 68,000 Others Entered

Mrs. Annie Freeman Davis of 1030 Charleston avenue has received word that she is a first prize winner in the nationwide Lux contest which closed last week when checks totalling $12,125 were sent out to women all over the country by Lever Brothers, soap manufacturers of Cambridge, Mass. Mrs. Davis is the wife of Oran E. Davis of the Gulf Refining company, and has two small sons. The distinction of winning in this contest is apparent as more than 68,000 women from all over the country competed and the prize winners were equally scattered.

Longhorn Hopes Leap Abreast With Baylor, S.M.U.

Bruins' Triumph By Small Margin But Power Seen

BY L. L. ENGELKING

The demonstrative but enigmatic "Doc" Stewart of the University of Texas Longhorns again promises to furnish the light for the southwestern limelight this fall. While Baylor and S. M. U. were seemingly barely squeezing over victories Saturday, Stewart's Longhorns, calculated as the also-rans who might accidentally throw a scare into the conference later on, came through calmly with a 27-0 decision over Southwestern's Pirates.

All the hue and cry of the sport followers has been centered on S. M. U. and yet all the Methodists could do last week-end was take a 7 to 3 game from the Denton Teachers. Baylor won from Simmons out at Abilene, 10 to 6, but the Bears are far more powerful than this score indicates.

While the Aggie followers are anxiously awaiting the weekly progress of the enigmatic Dana Bible with his Farmers, the hosts of the Longhorn orange are exceedingly well pleased. The "Doctor" showed no team of greenhorns against Southwestern, but instead flashed an eleven of new stars, thereby announcing to the wide world that the loss of a veteran team means nothing to him. But the years of a long coaching career were displayed in what was shown at Austin Saturday. On the surface of things, Stewart had very little left from the great 1923 team, and yet he has fitted together the scraps into another

Longhorn Line May Prove as Powerful As Great Aggregation Last Year

In the line the scraps have been fitted together into the semblance of a battle scarred veteran aggregation. With Flannucke, another man moved out last year only by the great Nig Bailey, at center, Texas U. has Cotton Dayvault and Red Sprague on one side and Berry and Newell on the other side. Dayvault are better men, Dayvault being an all-southwestern guard last year. Newell played at end last year for a good part of the season, and made his play.

Berry, who is reported as a star of Saturday's game, is 32 years old for comparison between Baylor and and is returning to college football, his love of earlier days, after a lapse of ten years. Berry was a member of the famous Longhorn team back in the years of 1914 and thereafter, which contained such demons as Jordan, Dittmar, Littlefield and others. Berry was on the redoubtable Second Texas team of the days of border hostilities, and now, after years of army football at San Antonio, is wearing the orange and white again. Berry is finishing a year of engineering work to get a degree.

Baylor Blocks Punts Three Times, But Cowboys Recover Each Time

Simmons ran across a touchdown in the last quarter on an extraordinary series of breaks. Simmons punts were blocked three times in that quarter, but each time the Cowboys recovered for a first down. Against a second string Baylor backfield, Simmons carried the ball forward 25 yards on passes to three-yard line, from where it was smashed across.

Coach Shetwell's star back from Abilene high, Bounds, was out of the game with a shoulder in splints. Ten to six—a small margin, but still no basis upon which to judge Baylor's strength. The Bears, with Pittman, the greatest punter of the conference, remain with as good chances for the championship as any other team and better than most. Frank Bridges will see to that.

S. M. U. Figures Conference Champions Will Lose at Least One Game

Reports tell of the failure of Stollenwerk, all-southwestern quarterback, to gain ground, being completely rubbed into the sod by McCombs, Denton end. An intercepted pass was responsible for Denton reaching position for a field goal. On the face of things, S. M. U.'s ends must have had an off day Saturday.

However, S. M. U. was not a team last year to win by overwhelming scores. One game, against T. C. U., was won 45-0, but a 16-0 win over Baylor for the title was the nearest approach to a large score in important games. Victories over Oklahoma A. & M. and Arkansas were hard fought, with the margin less than ten points and a 10-3 win over Texas A. & M. was a matter of judicious generalship by Stollenwerk.

S. M. U., we judge, will also make the fur fly for some hapless team before the end of the season. Coach Morrison of the S. M. U. has publicly announced that he figures the conference winner will lose at least one game, and that should indicate there will be some hot times this fall. The Mustangs' great tests will come on October 18, against Texas in Dallas; on October 25, against the Texas Aggies in Dallas; and on November 15 against Baylor in Dallas.

Nehf Likely to Pitch Opener for Giants Against Senators Interscholastic League Closes

FRISCH, GROH WILL BE OKAY

Yanks Have Ghost's Hope of Entering Series

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—With their fourth straight National league championship put away safely in the bag, the New York Giants today started preparations for the world series. The champions have the final game of the regular season with the Phillies and Manager McGraw plans to work a lot of the rookies who have been eating off the club during the season. McGraw does not, however, intend to let his regulars get off edge and several exhibition games will be played before Saturday when the series starts.

Frisch, Groh, Will Play
The Washington Senators have not won the American League pennant officially, but they are just as good as in. They have two more games to play with the Boston Red Sox and they have a lead of two games. The New York Yankees have a pair of games to play with the Philadelphia Athletics. If the Senators should lose two and the Yankees should win two, they would finish in a tie and would have to go through a three-game series to decide the pennant. But the chance for a play-off is remote.

The Giants apparently figure that Washington is sure to win as plans have been made to send the team to Washington Thursday night. The players will work out in the Washington baseball park Friday, according to the arrangements.

McGraw is figuring on having Frank Frisch, captain of the team, and Heinie Groh, his veteran third baseman, in shape to play during the series.

Frisch might have played a few innings yesterday, but his manager would not allow him to take any chances. Groh, it was said, would be able to get back in uniform in a few days.

While no lineup has been decided upon, McGraw intimated that the order would be: Frisch, third base; Groh, second base; Young, right field; Kelly, center field; Terry, first base; Wilson, left field; Jackson, shortstop; Gowdy or Snyder, catcher.

Setting Favors Giants
Because of his experience and his ability as a fielder, Arthur Nehf, the veteran southpaw, may be called upon to pitch the first game of the Giants. He is in fine shape now. McQuillan and Jack Bentley, the former International league left-hander, also are in good condition and ready for their turn.

McGraw said today he hadn't made up his mind about the pitcher and that the weather would have much to do with making his choice. The Giants are ruling a slight favorite in the betting to win the series if Washington plays the American league end. Not much money is being offered as the Giants backers are doubtful about the team if Frisch and Groh do not play.

FRENCH HORSE'S JOCKEY RAZED

Epindar Will Run in Latonia Special

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Ladkin, August Belmont's 3-year-old winner of the second international special race at Aqueduct Saturday, Epindar, the French colt who finished second, and Wise Counselor, the western colt, who was third, will be shipped to Latonia Wednesday to prepare for the third special which is to be run over a mile and a quarter on October 11.

While Ladkin won the race and the $25,000 purse Saturday, most of the glory and all of the sympathy of the racing set went to the French colt, beaten out by a nose.

Everett Harnes, former American jockey, was criticized severely for having ridden with very poor judgment. While nothing official could be learned today, it is understood that Harnes will be relieved and that some other jockey will ride at Latonia.

In addition to Ladkin, Epindar and Wise Counselor, My Own, My Play, Black Gold, Prince Doreen and Chahowee are expected to start in the third race.

CLASSIC PLAYS OF THE GRIDIRON

Dartmouth's Winning Play Was No Surprise, But Was Perfectly Executed

BY JAMES DE BAYLE
Football Coach, Washington and Lee

Only 26 seconds of the first half remained in the Geo. and Dartmouth game of 1921, so it seemed a foregone conclusion that the intermission would come and go with the two teams still deadlocked in a scoreless tie. But in those 26 seconds Dartmouth scored a touchdown, won the game as it proved later and gave me one of the greatest thrills of my football experience.

Dartmouth had the ball on its own 20-yard line. Three forward passes were grounded and on the fourth down Dartmouth punted. It should have been Georgia's ball on Dartmouth's 20-yard line, for the punt went directly out of bounds, but a Georgia end was off side and it was again Dartmouth's ball with six seconds left to play.

Nothing to do but kick or pass, so Dartmouth fell into kick formation with Robertson back. But the ball didn't go to Robertson. Instead, one of the halfbacks took the ball close behind center and started on a wide swing around end. Kicking had been eliminated as a possibility. Georgia's task now was to prevent completion of a pass or gain from a run.

Normally the Georgia system of pass defense was to rush the passer, but this time the defenders fell back to cover the eligible receivers. Meanwhile the ball was still moving with the runner toward the sideline, but it never went out of bounds, for Robertson, after faking a kick, had paralleled the course of the back with the ball. Now he received it on a pass back, just as the halfback was about to be tackled, threw it 60 yards to Lynch, who passed the safety man and scored the game's only touchdown.

The best play conceived can be a fizzle if poorly executed and, conversely, very ordinary plays can be made to produce thrills and touchdowns if smoothly pulled. Before the play I have described was too far under way Georgia knew it had a pass to contend with, yet it was completed, for a touchdown.

Dartmouth didn't need the aid of the element of surprise. It had perfect execution. That was enough.

Another Program Lined Up For Athletic Club Wednesday

What is announced as the banner event of early winter Port Arthur Athletic club smokers is on tap Wednesday night for members, when the feature of an athletic show will be a boxing exhibition between Kid Frankie Tull of New Orleans who meets Battling Sam of Port Arthur at the club rooms.

Tull is on his way to Mexico to do some winter boxing and Tull's promoter wired the club yesterday that he would be only too glad to stop off in Port Arthur and put on an exhibition for the club members between his boxer and Battling Sam. Wednesday night's program will start at 8:30, and should be much more interesting than last week's program, which was a fifty thing in itself.

Music to Be Furnished
Manager Harry Coughlin of the athletic club announces that music will again be furnished Wednesday night by the Dixie blackface orchestra, and also that he is trying to arrange some vaudeville stunts for future athletic programs of the club this winter.

The affair between Tull, who is one of many of the many athletic luminaries frequenting New Orleans and Sam is not the only event on this week's program, for several preliminaries will serve as a started Wednesday night.

Incidentally, Sam was somewhat

300 Schools Entered In Elimination

By ROY B. HENDERSON
AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 29.—Although a few reports of high school football games scattered over the state reached the University of Texas Interscholastic league office this past week, the real opening of the high school season is taking place this week-end, with a large number of important games being played.

The new football plan fostered by the league holds out more honors for more schools than the plan which was in force last year. The state is divided into 16 sections for schools having an enrollment of less than 250 and this division is known as Conference B. Championships in these 16 sections are to be determined early in November. Bisectional games will then be played between the winners in this class, eliminating down to eight teams.

300 Schools in Race
The state is divided into eight sections for the larger schools, or Conference A teams, and championships in this division are to be determined about November 11. At this point there will be 16 teams in the running, eight A teams and eight B teams. The eliminations will then be arranged by the state office, and the assignments will be determined by the locations of the various surviving teams.

After next Wednesday, October 1, no school will be accepted for participation under this plan. Up to date nearly 300 schools have entered Applications from the following schools have been received since the list was published last week:

Central High (Fort Worth)
Gainesville, Minn. and South Park of Beaumont, have entered Conference A since last week.

Early games reported to the league are:

- Merkel 57, Clyde 0
- Big Spring 52, Stanton 0
- Navasota 12, Hearne 12
- Hoserville 0, Floresville 0
- Anson 52, Winters 0

Texas Leaguers Too Much for Port Arthur

Port Arthur's "All Stars" weren't good enough for a mixed League team up at the county seat yesterday. Among the Beaumont players were Jack Shiss, first base; Red Osterard, second base; Hank Doty, shortstop; Jack Standbury, third base; and Rabbit, center field.

Shires and Doty did the heavy lifting for the Beaumont nine, either Karnaky or Leach being able to check the assault. Pat Townsend added three frames for Beaumont. Neil finishing out the job. Kelley night the two Texas leaguers' delivery.

Yesterday's hero—Dazzy Vance, ace Brooklyn hurler, who won his 28th victory of the season, enabled the Robins to close the season with a 6 to 1 win over the Boston Braves.

Now that it doesn't count, the former Phillies turned on the Giants and battered their way to a 11 to 6 triumph over the champions.

The Cardinals ended their season with an even break in a doubleheader with the Reds. Rhem held the Reds to 7 hits in the first game which St. Louis took 9 to 3. Benton buried the Reds to an 8 to 2 victory in the second.

The Tigers and the White Sox battled to a 10-10 tie, the game being called in the tenth inning on account of darkness.

Chicago topped Pittsburgh 7 to 2, the defeat costing the Pirates any chance of second place in the National league race.

Dr. Frank Crane's Editorials

COLD
It used to be a saying, out West where I come from: "Heat is life and cold is death."

As far as my own experience goes I should be inclined to look favorably upon this statement.

Heat is expansion. On a warm summer day full of sunshine, when the air is vibrant with heat, and you look out from under the shade of a tree, it seems easy to send your soul into the infinite, for it seems as if you were a brother to all things.

Cold drives you into the house. It makes you shut the windows and doors, to defend yourself against the universe. It makes you huddle the stove. Its influence upon one's ideas is similar. Cold is the friend of narrowness and littleness and egotism and all things that contract one. Whereas brotherhood and fellowship, if all these exist, can hardly endure except in a state of warmth.

My notion of nowhere to go is the North and South Poles, high mountain tops and cold remote places. Their atmosphere is unfriendly. You cannot exist in them unless you take your own little world with you.

My vote is for the good old summer time. To be sure, winter may have its pleasures, but they are all, in a measure, artificial and are not for a moment to be compared with the happiness that comes to us with the long, warm, sunny days.

If there be any fault with summer it is that it is too favorable to life. The universe is too crowded for us and bugs and insects and all sorts of small deer contend with us for a place. But, to the hospitable soul this is no drawback. Himself feeling the vibrations of warmth, he is willing to share them with other forms of life. He usually has to, whether he will or not.

TWO PARTIES OR ONE? TEXAS ABOUT TO DECIDE ISSUE

During the recent convention in New York a candidate for the nomination was asked whether he would visit Texas during the fall.

"If I am not nominated I think I will be down this fall," said the candidate frankly, "but if I am nominated, I cannot waste my time coming to Texas, because that is sure democratic anyhow."

Anyone attending a national convention, whether democratic or republican, has the sense of being distinctly out of the running as far as residence in the state of Texas is concerned. Everybody talks about the chances in New Jersey, Ohio, New York, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland and California.

No one talks about either Pennsylvania or Texas—two of the five largest states in population. The reason is that both Pennsylvania, a republican stronghold, and Texas, a democratic stronghold, are already disposed of in everyone's mind. Both states are merely part of the luggage of their respective parties. Even whenever there is any strengthening of the party, largely it is done by fixing up the political fence in the doubtful states. The only exception in forty years has been under President Wilson's regime, and that of course, was due to the fact that Wilson was a statesman first and a politician second.

Texas would loom far larger in national politics at least if there were two parties in Texas instead of the one at present.

It is probably also true there would be a greater efficiency in state government, both in Pennsylvania and Texas, if there were competition of a two party nature. Pennsylvania's state government has been notoriously nominated by the republican graft ring with headquarters at Philadelphia. The same thing would be true in New York with Tammany, if it were not that Tammany was opposed by a very stronger organizing republican majority in upstate New York, which generally balances the Tammany majorities in New York City.

There are signs that Texas has suffered in its state government at different times during the last twenty years, because of the fact that one party is so dominate.

The News is a democratic newspaper, and believes that the democratic party in this nation has consistently advocated human rights as opposed to the republican party which has too consistently been over tender toward property rights. But, the News believes that the democratic party in Texas and the other democracy influences in national affairs would show improvements if there were a really competitive party.

AN EASY LIAR

Gaston B. Means has recounted all that he said before the Wheeler investigating committee relative to Harry M. Daugherty and the ill-smelling associates of the former attorney general.

Gaston B. Means is an easy liar and an accomplished scoundrel. This is his record for twenty years. Daugherty knew the record of Means when he made him a special agent of the department of justice. William J. Burns knew his record.

Jess Smith, now dead, knew his record. All the crooks and grafters around Washington in the loud smelling oil days, knew his record. Means is on the road to the federal penitentiary. He was convicted of conspiracy to violate the federal prohibition law and he was an agent of Daugherty and the department of justice when the alleged law violation occurred.

Harry M. Daugherty had been effaced. Public opinion forced the president to kick him out of office. Now Daugherty is holding the center of the stage again and the rottenness and corruption of oil plotters in and out of office will be given another public airing.

Means is not the only one of the gang who should be on the road to the penitentiary. Albert B. Fall and all republican officials who either connived or permitted the naval oil reserves to be stolen from the government should be on the road to the penitentiary. Charles Denby who was secretary of the navy when the transfer was made says he would do it again if given an opportunity.

Two prominent officers of the navy who recommend the transfer, over the present naval officers of the highest rank, say they would do it again if given an opportunity.

Gaston B. Means is an easy liar and an accomplished scoundrel but is he any more brazen than the servants of the government who betrayed their trust and their country by agreeing to transfer the naval oil reserves from the navy department to the hungry clutches of Fall and his free booters?

IS THERE A DIFFERENCE?

Gaston B. Means was a sworn witness when he testified as to the crookedness of Harry M. Daugherty and his department. His so called recantation is an interview given to the press but he does not make affidavit that his confession of perjury is the "truth so help me God."

Now Gaston says that republican officials, from the top to the bottom in the city of Washington, agreed to go to his assistance if he would repudiate his testimony given the Wheeler senate committee.

Really, the proper place for Gaston is behind the bars.

A Thing of Beauty Should Be a Joy Forever

THE FUN SHOP

By J. E. Olmstead
Down on the farm
Doggone it, Mr. Fun Shop Man, I'd like to see you stuffed with bran! My folks have got my farm in tangles. Because they're writin' Jingle-Jangles!

My daughter Sue is writin' verse. The hired girl is writin' worse. Instead of meanin' mortgaged notes My son is writin' antidotes.

No longer can I dream and smoke. I've got to listen to some joke. Or bunch of bunk, a dingle dangle Ma tells me is a Jingle-Jangle.

But now we're quiet: I heard 'em say "We'll send 'em in the mail today. And when you read the gold darned mess You'll go bughouse, if I've a guess!"

The Reason
Stranger: "What makes this town so quiet?"
Resident: "The big wind we had the other day. It blew down all the articles."

Pretty Thick
Angle New: "It's getting harder to make up for my parts than it used to be."
Cora Fee: "Why so?"
Angle New: "One can't get enough on to look natural."

Constellation
I stood on the bridge at midnight Looking up at Mars. A jet came by and struck me, And I saw a million stars.

Something Useful—For Her
Mrs. Burt: "What are you going to give your husband for his birthday, my dear?"
Mrs. Hammons: "I haven't quite decided yet. Either a vacuum cleaner or that new electric oven I've always wanted."

Accomplishment
"Is your wife a good cook?"
"No, but she swings a mean can opener."

Made of Finer Clay
Sue Hess Orr, known as Sis Orr, Told Assessor S. R. Messer, Of her Charles-the-Second saucer, Sis Orr was the "proud possessor" Of this saucer, Heaven bless her.

S. R. Messer was no guesser, And no porcelain professor: How could he assess her saucer? So, when R. R., the assessor, Tried to "sass" her 'bout her saucer, Sis Orr said to S. R.: "Cease, or I will sell for the police, Sir!" Then, when Messer tried to kiss her, Yes sir, Sis Orr broke the saucer On Assessor Messer's face, Sir!

Not Popular Now
Allice: "I wish I could show you Jack's love letters."
Annabelle: "Thanks, I don't care much for summer fiction."

Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary
Little Mary and her cousin James were playing, when the following was overheard:
Mary: "James, when I get grown I'm going to marry you!"
James: "No, you're not, I'm going to marry Sue Dean."
Mary: "Yes, but I WILL!"
James: "No, you shan't!"
Mary: "But I tell you I will marry you!"
James: "Well, if you do, I won't come to the wedding!"

The Humorous Boarder
After a fruitless day on the lake, the boarder who always tried to be clever came up to the landlord standing on the landing.
"What's the difference between you and a bass?"
"What is it? I'll bite."
"That's the difference. The bass wouldn't."

What his wife knows of courts is nil; Her legal talent's very slim. Yet she displays the greatest skill In laying down the law to him.

Proper Place
Madge: "What was that you said to the football player?"
Marjorie: "I wished him luck and hoped he would always come out on top."

Catastrophe
Sometimes a woman suffers so, it is a miracle that there's anything left of her at all.
Her heart is rent, her spirit is broken, her pride is wounded and her nerves are torn.

Indispensable
Stockholder: "I don't see why our corporation needs six vice-presidents. What do they do?"
Director: "They take turns sitting in for the president when he is playing golf."

The day of secrecy in business is being replaced by intelligent co-operation. The most advanced merchants have banded together for the purpose of solving mutual problems. By greater efficiency in the operation of their enterprises they have strengthened their position in the business world. One of the most important steps which a great many trade organizations have made is the adoption of a standard system of accounting. The government has issued several such systems, particularly for co-operative marketing organizations.

THE NEWS' SOCIAL AND HOUSEHOLD PAGE

Rich Brocades, Glinting Beads and Much Fur Make Fall Frocks Very Lovely

WHEN a hat decides to make itself an evening affair it takes on wide and becomingly picturesque lines, with a crown and scarf of black Spanish lace, and a brim of black satin soliel, around which twines a wreath of pastel tinted ribbon flowers and a gold ribbon. The underbrim is faced in three shades of silk in Roman stripe effect—rose, green, and yellow. Such a charming creation is being shown in a smart downtown shop.

White evening gowns are fashionable this season, too. A lovely model is of georgette beaded in silver crystals, with large pearl beads simulating buttons down the front. A deep band of white marabou is at the bottom of the skirt. Typical of the newest mode is an ensemble costume, and a stunning costume of this nature has a straight line frock of claret red satin, plaited and trimmed in lynn. It fastens down the front with red buttons. The deeply pointed collar of self fabric is very new. The coat, which forms part of the costume, is of black satin, trimmed with lynn, and so cut as to let the frock beneath assume a shirt bosom effect. Long narrow scarfs, with huge tassels, finish the neck of the coat.

A gorgeous costume is of brocaded metal cloth, in colors such as red, yellow, flame, green, blue, and gold, glinting in the brocade of the red-tinged. Brown fur trims it. The slip worn beneath it is of a brown the edges of the coat and forms a satin. Gold metal ribbon outlines decorative band above the hem of the skirt.

An adorable frock is of king's blue faille silk, brocaded in gold and silver band effect. The tunic is edged with brown flying squirrel.

Not only is fur in the season's mode, but ostrich is equally popular. It looks as though the poor ostrich has been sheared of every feather he possessed to gratify woman's love of feather finery this fall. Ostrich is seen on every trimming counter by the bolt and by the yard, in every gorgeous color and shade that ostriches never heard of. It is used to trim capes, frocks, negligees, and fluffy ostrich in pale green shade forms a deep border on a beautiful green chiffon evening scarf.

And you positively must have a shawl to throw over your shoulders in the evening. They are the last cry in scarfs, and may be had in the most wonderful color and combinations. They are not high priced when one considers the material and workmanship, but of course they are not like the magnificent Spanish shawls, and embroidered with long-knotted fringe, but they are good looking and modish.

Hand-painted fringed shawls are among the lovely novelties. One shawl is showing a luscious thing in pale canary yellow, with a large hand-painted butterfly poised in one corner. And scarfs you must have of some description. There are swanky little wool ones from Scotland, with self-fringe in attractive plaids and stripes for wear with suits and sports things. There are some and two-tone crepes to wear under one's coat, all in the most fascinating colors. From Austria come scarfs of crocheted yarn, in every new shade, with deep borders of flowers done in bright colored embroidery and finished with yarn fringe.

So popular is the scarf that one shop is showing one of handsome colored silk Spanish lace, in block design, with a lace handkerchief to match. One can scarcely describe another imported scarf, for it is lightness and warmth as much as beauty of coloring that give it charm. It is of a sort of wool, crepe, orchid and purple, gray or in several other tweed colorings, and is long and very wide.

Reading Club To Start Club Year With Reception

The Reading Club will begin fall activities next Friday afternoon with a reception at the Department club, officers of the club serving as the reception committee on this occasion.

The reception committee will be composed of Mrs. George N. Pugh, president of the Reading club; Mrs. A. S. Bailey, vice president; Mrs. Walter Dick, secretary; Mrs. C. E. Lauer, treasurer; and Mrs. G. H. Eubank, parliamentarian.

On this occasion Mrs. C. E. Peterson of the program committee will outline the study program for the year, which will be modern American novels.

A social hour will be enjoyed during the afternoon hours, the entertainment being scheduled as three o'clock. Hostesses for the afternoon will be members of the program committee, which include Mrs. A. S. Bailey, Mrs. Pendleton Beall, Miss Mary Donaldson, and Mrs. C. F. Peterson. The Reading club was organized for mutual improvement along literary lines, and the study for the coming club year promises to be especially interesting. In answer to roll call, members will answer with quotations from the novel under discussion at each session.

Among some of the delightful American novels to be studied this year are Robert Herrick's "The Common Lot," Edith Wharton's "The Age of Innocence," Booth Tarkenton's "The Magnificent Andersons," "The Midlander," Willa Cather's "O Pioneers," Joseph Hergesheimer's "Java Head," Emerson Hough's "The Covered Wagon," Fannie Hurst's "Lumoux," Dorothy Scarborough's "The Land of Cotton," "West of the Water Tower," by Ho-

C. E.'s To Have Executive Meet Tuesday Night

The executive committee of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Christian church will meet tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the president, H. C. Holmes, 1210 Seventh street.

Plans for Endeavor work during the ensuing six months will be formulated on this occasion and it is hoped that a full attendance of the executive members will be present with ideas and suggestions pertaining to the work.

Tentative plans have been for dividing the Society into teams to work during the fall and winter months and these will be discussed tomorrow evening.

All officers of the society and committee chairmen and their assistants are urged to attend this meeting and any other Endeavorers who are interested in the C. E. work are invited to attend.

Last evening's Christian Endeavor program was in charge of Miss Gladys Garrett and was unusually interesting, the program being based on the subject, "Getting Things Organized." A number of interesting talks were made and several peppy musical selections were given.

Next Sunday evening's program will be sponsored by Mrs. R. D. Brown and will be a consecration meeting. A cordial invitation is extended all young people of the city, not affiliated with any other young people's society, to attend the C. E. sessions each Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

FATHER SEES YOUTHS DIE

Houston Boys Slain When Car, Train Collide

HOUSTON, Sept. 29.—Juan Rodriguez, 19, and Faustino, 21, his brother, were instantly killed before the eyes of their father this morning when the truck in which they were riding was struck by an International & Great Northern passenger train on a grade crossing seven miles south of Houston.

The two boys, with their father were on their way to work and the father had opened a gate leading onto the right-of-way. Their bodies were carried 100 feet by the locomotive.

ISONZO SAILOR, JOBLESS, FINED FOR PEDDLING

Plan that sinking of the Isonzo had made it impossible for his ship to leave port and consequently he was without work, and that this was the reason he was attempting to sell some cheap jewelry on Procter street Saturday when arrested by Detective Joe Wyndels of the police department, a sailor charged with peddling without a license told City Judge Dycus in police court today.

Three strings of pearls and some rings were introduced in evidence as the ones the sailor was alleged to have tried to sell. Defendants pleaded guilty and was fined $1 and costs with a warning from the court not to violate the ordinance again.

COMMISSARY DENIES NEGRO THEIR AGENT

Warning was issued this morning by the Retail Merchants' association to retail grocers and housewives not to purchase sugar and canned milk reported being peddled over town by a negro said to be representing himself as an agent of the Gulf commissary company.

Though no charges have been filed against the peddler, association officials say the case is unusual, for the prices of the products offered are far below wholesale, these say, "Something is wrong," was Secretary Broussard's comment in issuing the warning to beware of the peddler.

SAN ANTONIO MAN PRAISES TANLAC

Medicine Corrected Stomach Trouble and Restored Weight, Says Filippone

Among the vast number of people everywhere who have publicly expressed their indebtedness to Tanlac for that much needed "lift" which has put them on the road to normal weight, health and strength, is Jos. J. Filippone, 214 Arroyo St., San Antonio, Texas. Mr. Filippone is that genial gentleman who represents the Merchants Transportation Co. as bus dispatcher at the Gunter hotel. Mr. Filippone has had a most gratifying experience with Tanlac, which he relates as follows:

"I have nothing but the best to say for Tanlac, two bottles and a half started me up hill nearly four years ago and I have been climbing ever since. I weighed 125 pounds then and was in a badly run-down condition. I had no appetite, digestion was bad, nerves unbalanced, my sleep unsteady and that tired, draggy feeling was on me all the time.

"Tanlac boosted my appetite from the very first. Then my stomach and nerves got right and I began to take on weight and strength. Since that time I have not had any more troubles with my health. I now weigh 155 lbs., a gain of 30 lbs., and I couldn't ask to feel better. A little

CHURCH OKEYS DEATH PENALTY

Lutherans Quote Bible to Support Stand

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—Declaring capital punishment is "legal and backed by scriptural authority," the Chicago Lutheran conference of the Missouri Synod, largest of the Lutheran bodies, issued a statement quoting the Bible in support of the death penalty.

To offset the arguments of those who, opposing the death penalty, quote the Bible in support of their claims, the statement quoted:

Scripture Quoted
Genesis 9, 6—"Who so sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed; for in the image of God made he man."

Romans 13, 4, St. Paul—"He (The Ruler, the government) beareth the sword (the instrument of capital punishment) not in vain; he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil."

Jesus—"They that take the sword, shall perish by the sword."

"A most baffling situation confronts us today," says the statement. "On the one hand heinous and atrocious crimes are being committed in ever increasing numbers. On the other hand we hear of persistent agitation for the abolition of capital punishment and a plea for mercy to the criminal."

LETTER FROM ALICE WHITNEY TO ALICE GRAVES HAMILTON, CONTINUED.

Going back to the time when Leslie was married, Mother dear, and I found out that Karl had for years been collecting that string of pearls—that was the beginning of all my troubles. At that time, in my foolish head, was born the idea that if I managed to find some way for Karl to give these pearls which in a way were a rosary of the years of Karl's life, to Leslie, he would be forever grateful to me. At that time I did not realize that perhaps the sight of those pearls about my sister's neck would unloose such emotions of jealousy that I would not be myself.

I only thought that the planning and putting into execution of ways and means in the giving to Leslie of this necklace would give me a secret in company with Karl, besides more or less confidential conversations with him.

Oh, Mother dear, I know it was a wild scheme, but I was hardly more than a child. As I think of it now I have almost decided that the only mature thing about me was my great love for Karl.

Besides, Betty Stokely and I had ideas at that time of writing the Great American Novel, and the pearl necklace episode seemed to me to be an original and wonderful chapter to put in it. The giving of the imitation pearls to Leslie from me seemed to be most romantic. I did not think far enough ahead to realize she must inevitably find out they were real.

Poor Karl! You know his idealistic nature. Mother, for 15 years he had been collecting those baubles for Leslie, and they represented so much to him, he snatched at any plan to get them into her possession. He seemed to think that with Leslie's marriage his life was over—and he, too, was still young enough to be romantic.

You know the rest. You know how I gave them to her on the morning of her wedding day. Of course, neither of us expected the complications that followed.

Then I went to England and Karl came over soon after. Finally I brought out a proposal of marriage from him. All the while the ghost of Karl's first love hovered about and scorched my jealous fears into a veritable torment.

When we came back from abroad and I found that Karl had brought back some of the jewels that Leslie had sold, I think I went mad. Then, of course, as you know, I descended to that most dastardly of actions, the writing of an anonymous letter to John.

Mother, I do not know why I did it. I haven't the slightest idea of what good I thought it would do me then. I expect it was the hope I might make Leslie as miserable as I was. You see, I was sure Karl still loved Leslie; of that I am not so sure now. But of one thing I am sure—Karl has lost all the little love he had for me. Mother, I made him marry me by avowing my intention of killing myself if he did not. Now I have his name, I have his wealth, I have his social deference and polite attention, but that is all. I have not his love nor his respect.

Mother, you still love me a little, do you not? Tell me what to do. You may show this letter to Leslie if you wish, but please, please do not tell Dad. It would kill me to have him lose faith in his little girl.

Perhaps some day you will get your faith back, for strange as it may seem, I love you all, and I want you to love ALICE.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

NO. 5—EENA MEENA AND THE SOUR OLD WOMAN

Instantly there stood Eena Meena, the magician, in flowing robes.

"Lands alive, gracious me on us!" exclaimed the Sour Old Woman when she lifted the board in her kitchen floor and peeped down into her cellar.

"The Twins and the Sand Man have escaped and taken the magic sand with them. They must have had magic along and I never knew it."

But suddenly she heard a snore and upon looking more closely didn't she see the Sand Man himself with his head on a sack of potatoes, fast asleep.

"Humph!" said the Sour Old Woman. "He must have used some of his own sleepy sand for snuff. But the sand's gone, that's sure. Sand Man or no Sand Man—and now all the babies will get their naps. Won't Tweeknose be cross, though, after me promising to help him out?"

The Sour Old Woman left the Sand Man sleeping and went to her front door under the water-fall. She caught some of the water in a cap and sprinkled some drops on her door-sill she said a charm.

"Eena Meena, quickly come, And see the harm the Twins have done."

Instantly there stood Eena Meena, the magician, in his flowing robes, his nose making a bow to his chin and his chin making a curtsy to his nose.

"What wouldst?" said he. "You have summoned me with the magic cup that I gave you on your thousandth birthday."

"I wouldst that you wouldn't say wouldst," said the Sour Old Woman. "Talk so I can understand. You and I were brought up together and you don't need to use any fancy words. I've got trouble enough."

"Well, then, what do you want?" asked Eena Meena.

"I'll tell you all about it," said the Sour Old Woman. "This morning Tweeknose the Gnome stole the Sand Man's sleepy sand and brought it to me to keep for him."

"So I hid it in my cellar."

"But the Sand Man and the Twins, Nancy and Nick, found out from the Green Wizard where it was and came after it."

"I didn't know they had magic along and I put them all in the cellar."

"But the Twins got out and took the sleepy sand with them. The Sand Man is still in the cellar, but he's asleep. There! Now you know all about it."

"By the great jumping puppy dogs and kitten cats!" cried Eena Meena. "This is a pretty kettle of fish!"

"I told you not to use any fancy language, didn't I, Eena Meena?" said the Sour Old Woman sharply. "What's to be done?"

"We'll have to help Tweeknose to get the sleepy sand back. That's sure!" said Eena Meena. "Or I know a still better way. When the Twins come back to get their Sand Man, we'll pretend to be glad that they were so smart."

"But before they leave I'll wave my wand and change each grain of sleepy sand to wide-awake sand."

"When they find that the sleepy sand is no good they will throw it away."

"Sh!" said the Sour Old Woman. "Here come the Twins now. You hide in the cupboard and I'll hide behind the stove."

CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

By Uncle RAY

GIPSIES ROVE OVER EUROPE

About the time of Columbus, and Magellan, bands of dark-skinned men, women and children began to rove over Germany, France and other countries of Europe. They were gipsies.

The name "gipsy" comes from "Egyptian," because certain gipsies said Egypt was their native land. It now seems certain, however, that India was the country from which they began to spread over the world.

The gipsies traveled on horseback, in wagons or on foot. There were commonly from 30 to 100 in each band. All had dark eyes and dark hair. Most of them were ragged, but their leaders or "dicks" were dressed in costly fashion.

Groups of gipsies, passing from place to place, were in the habit of camping in the open. They soon became noted for horse-trading, fortune-telling and stealing.

"Telling fortunes" was (and still is) the great money-making business of gipsy women. They would look at the hands of Christians and pretend to tell the past, present and future. They spoke in such a vague way that whatever they said might be true for almost anyone. In this way, many came to believe they were highly gifted.

In spite of all their faults, we cannot help but have pity for the lot of the gipsies. They had no home to call their own—unless a wagon might be called a home. It was hard for them to make a living in usual ways and they might have starved to death if they had tried to lead honest lives.

As a matter of fact, some of them were constantly in the misery of starvation. Certain cases are on record where they begged to be burned to death, in order that their hard lives might come to an end. Gipsy women, especially, were likely to beg to be killed.

One time, a gipsy man was whipped and ordered to get out of Germany. He was told that if he returned, he would be hanged. The poor fellow decided he would rather die than live, and came back from the frontier glad at the thought of ending his sorrowful life.

Even nowadays, gipsy bands wander over the face of the earth. They are found in America, as well as in Europe and Asia.

BOY DIVES AFTER DROWNING DOG, DIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Charles W. Evan, 11, died today with his arms around the neck of "Pep," his Collie dog. Charles was throwing stones at a canal when Pep, exhausted at the sport attempted to retrieve one. Seeing the dog couldn't make short, the boy dived bravely in after him.

Police recovered his body, arms clasped tightly about the neck of the dog.

Nice thing about the coming cold spell is you can keep your hands in your pockets so you won't lose your money.

The corrected reading of the barometer (reduced to sea level) at the U. S. weather bureau office in Port Arthur, Texas, on Monday, September 29 at 7 a. m. was 30.13 inches. This closely approximates 765.3 millimeters.

TIDE REPORT

The tide in the ship canal at Port Arthur, Texas, Monday, September 29, at 8 a. m. was 1 (one-tenth) foot, according to the reading of the U. S. engineer's gauge.

OBSTRUCTION TO NAVIGATION

The following was issued through the New Orleans branch of the United States hydrographic office:
Aug. 24.—Latitude 42 degrees 13 minutes, longitude 57 degrees 36 minutes, passed close to a red buoy marked 18 covered with marine growth.—Flour Spar (ss) Hickey; Officer Baker.
Sept. 2.—Latitude 39 degrees 41 minutes 30 seconds, longitude 10 degrees 5 minutes, passed a cylindrical can buoy the top of which was spherical and surmounted by a tripod superstructure of iron rods around which chains were wound. The markings consisted of a large X in white and several letters of which all but the first (T. E.) were obliterated by rust. A rope encircled it; just above the water's edge and there were several ring bolts around its sides.—Myrian Fr. es. Fernand; Officer Henore.
Sept. 2.—Latitude 34 degrees 16 minutes, longitude 12 degrees 55 minutes, a large derelict vessel awash.—Admiralty, London.
Note.—Probably the derelict schooner Governor Parr.

Prohibition Popular Movie Theme

RICARDO CORTEZ AND VIRGINIA LEE CORBIN

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 29.—Gradually, timidly, prohibition, one of the great modern experiments, is precipitating its interpretive drama. The two notable examples on the screen thus far are Ince's "Those Who Dance," and Paramount's more recent, "The City That Never Sleeps," directed by that benevolent iconoclast, James Cruze.

The first had melodrama, narrative, preachment. The second has a more sober story, if no more sobriety, and succinct ironic comment.

Both dwell upon the exactions of prohibition—from considerably different viewpoints. In "The City That Never Sleeps," ambiguously titled adaptation of Le Roy Scott's story, "Mother O'Day," Cruze depicts the results of transferring booze from the open saloon to the sheltered saloon and the enormously increased consumption of liquor by women.

His dramatic character is "Mother O'Day," capably interpreted by Louise Dresser. She is the widow of a pre-Prohibition saloon keeper, she had been her husband's co-worker,

AT THE CAMEO

A delightful comedy is being presented at the Cameo theater today in "Hold Your Breath." It is an Al Christie feature done in the same tempo as the short Christie comedies. Unlike most feature comedies, it has a good story as a basis for the humor. It is a tale of a girl who sets out to hold down her brother's repertorial job and does—although she rouses the whole town and almost breaks her neck before she succeeds.

The cast is comprised of a grand array of well known players. Dorothy Devore, the irrepressible little star of the multitude of Christie comedies, is the girl. Jovial Walter Hiers plays her well-meaning fiancée and Tully Marshall is seen as the eccentric collector. Jimmie Adams, Jimmie Harrison, Priscilla Bonner, Lincoln Plumer, Rosa Gore, Jay Belasco, George Pierce, Victor Rodman, Budd Fine, Eddie Baker and Douglas Carter comprise the remainder of the large and very capable cast.

AT THE LIBERTY

Jack Hoxie is the star of "Ridgeway of Montana," the Universal action drama which opens at the Liberty.

Thousands Recommend it

THEY have learned from experience that no matter how many other treatments have been tried without success, Resinol brings speedy relief from chafing, eczema or similar itching, embarrassing eruptions.

Its soothing healing action is brought about by qualities which cause it to sink deep into the pores and reach the very root of the disorder. It is absolutely harmless and does not smart or burn when applied to the most irritated surface.

To keep the skin healthy many people have adopted the daily use of Resinol Soap. Unsurpassed for toilet and bath. All druggists sell Resinol products.

CHRIST TERMED
GREAT HUNTER

Yelderman Describes Chase
In Sunday Sermon

Taking as his text Luke 19:10. "For the Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost." Rev. R. R. Yelderman spoke to a large audience at the First Christian church last evening on "Let's Go Hunting."

"The sound of a gun is music to some men's ears," said the speaker. "There have been many great hunters on earth, but I want to tell of the greatest hunter—the world's greatest who hunted the biggest game there was—souls of men. That hunter was Jesus Christ who came to seek, to hunt, Jesus in telling of the lost sheep and the shepherd hunting it, said that His kingdom was like that. In the parable of the prodigal son when the father often looked down the road hunting for the face of his beloved son, Jesus said, 'My Kingdom is like that.'

Men's Souls, Game
"Thus Jesus came to hunt the world's greatest game—not lions, tigers and such wild game—but bigger than that, men's souls; and the hunt of big game of the worldly hunters is naught compared to Jesus' hunt for Jesus came after human beings.

"The purpose of the church is to hunt, to seek and to save that which is lost. A person can make a lot of noise with blank cartridges, but we don't want any blank cartridges in our hunt. The church has only one kind of ammunition and that is the Bible. That man that uses high sounding words in attempting to save lost souls is like blank cartridges. The only way to go after a man is to go after him with the gospel and the gospel plan of salvation."

But in the saloon of "Mrs. Kendall" booze flows quite as freely as it did over "Mother O'Day's" old bar. And eventually the mother discovers that the environment there is quite perverse; that the girl has developed into a flip little cocktail and shimmy shaker; that she is on the verge of being matrimonially plucked by an adventurer who believes her heir to an independent fortune; that she is an impertinent little snob.

BIGHAM TRIED
FOURTH TIME

Faces Specific Charge of Slaying Brother

CONWAY, S. C., Sept. 29.—The fourth trial of Edmund Bigham, accused slayer of five members of his family, was resumed today in Horry county court here after several days recess caused by the death of a state witness who was stricken while on the stand.

Bigham, who has escaped the electric chair on three previous occasions, when his attorneys made successful pleas for new trials, is being tried on the specific charge this time of murdering his brother, L. S. Bigham.

Body, Pistol Found
L. S. Bigham's body, with a revolver in one hand, was found with the bodies of four other members of the Bigham family near the home at Florence, S. C., in January, 1921.

It was at first believed by authorities that the other shot himself. Later, however, Edmund Bigham was accused of wiping out the entire family, including his brother, his mother, a sister and the latter's two adopted boys.

WORLD PEACE
PACT ASSAILED

League Delegates Work
Desperately to Save Plan

GENEVA, Sept. 29.—Delegates worked desperately today to save the League of Nations protocol of arbitration and security, imperilled by Japan's insistence upon bringing the question of such problems as the American-Japanese exclusion act before the league.

The protocol, hailed as the greatest constructive step towards world peace in the league's history, provides for a disarmament conference, if three of the four nations represented on the council endorse it.

Ambassador Adachi, Japan's representative, virtually has threatened opposition to the proposal unless the protocol's seventh article is revised and so worded that disputes "arising from questions of purely democratic jurisdiction" may be brought to the council. The word immigration was not mentioned, but stripped of its verbiage and technicalities, the Japanese proposal means that Japan wants to carry its complaint against the United States to the league.

By so doing the Japanese deny the right of national sovereignty over democratic affairs when nation is affected thereby.

The situation is grave, because Japan by a negative vote can kill the entire disarmament, arbitration and security project, but it is thought the Japanese may refrain from voting when the protocol comes up for the assembly's decision tomorrow.

Coroner Probes Murder of Oklahoma Family

MANGUN, Okla., Sept. 29.—A coroner's inquest was to be held today into the deaths of Mrs. J. A. Melton and her four children found by their father Saturday night with their throats slashed.

Although authorities expressed belief Mrs. Melton killed her four children and then took her own life, investigation will be made today for clues of murder.

Lived Near Mangum
The Meltons lived five miles south-east of Mangum. According to authorities, Mrs. Melton showed signs of mental derangement sometime ago. Several days ago she expressed fear of being murdered to her husband. When Melton returned from a trip to Mangum Saturday night, he found his wife and the four children, slain.

Funeral services were to be held this afternoon at Martha, Okla.

Seeing Is Believing

There are plenty of people who have bought stock in companies which never existed except in name. There are just as many who have bought stock in promising oil wells or gold mines that couldn't be seen, only to find out later that it was worth no more than the paper on which it was written.

There's nothing like first seeing what you buy. Seeing is believing.

You have that advantage in buying Eastern Texas Electric stock. It is not even necessary to go out of your way to see the property and good business back of the stock you buy. You can't get "stung." You can see for yourself.

A REASON A DAY

The Company's business is directed by experienced and careful executives. They live here, their homes are here, their interests are here. They are officers and active workers in civic organizations. They know what this section needs and how to get it.

Loyalty and efficiency of its employees cannot be excelled. All are of and for this community and this Company. Your investment is doubly insured, for they have personal and community interests besides strictly business interests.
